FEDERAL TROOPS CLOSING AROUND INSURGENT ARMY

Calles Hopes To Place

Rebel Forces

DRIVE MAY SPELL
DOOM OF REVOLT

Rebel Planes Quiet After
U. S. Order To Be Careful

Mexico City April 9.—With his headquarters now established at Mazatlan, Sinaloa, on the west coast, Gen. Plutarco Calles, secretary of war and commander in chief of all the government forces, today announced his plans for a campaign in Sinaloa and Sonora which he hopes will end the revolution in Mexico.

Calles hopes to trap the rebels in a three-cornered wedge some place in Sonora. Three federal divisions will be employed in this maneuver. Gen. Lazaro Cardenas, commanding the federal forces in Sinaloa is now hotly pursuing the rebels under Gen. Francisco Manzo, who has been retreating northward and were last reported at San Blas. The rebels are not expected to make a stand at San Blas. If they retreat northward into Sonora, however, they will enter the trap set for them.

Cardenas' force will continue toward Mazatlan. Meanwhile Gen. J. Andres Almazan, hero of the battles of Monterrey, Jimenez and Le Rojo, will sweep westward from Chihuahua with his powerful expeditionary force, while Gen. Abelardo Rodriguez, commander of the federal forces in Sonora, will institute a southern offensive.

The bombing incidents along the American border are construed here as instigated by the rebels mainly for the purpose of stirring up anti-Mexican sentiment in the United States. The rebels are believed here to be about American intervention, which might disrupt the friendly relations now existing between the United States and the Mexican government.

CHURCH ROBBED BY 5 BANDITS

Gang Holds Up People Attending Service; Get Much Loot

Chicago, April 9.—Five shotgun bandits who last night invaded the First Roumanian Congregation church in the city and held up 77 worshippers, including the Roumanian consul, were the object of a county-wide search today.

The bandits, posing as worshippers, called Rabbi Harry Goldstein to the door, covered him with guns and forced him to lead them to the meeting in the basement of the synagogue.

All present were forced to line up with their backs to the wall where they were robbed of cash and valuables. No accurate estimate of the loot has been made, but it will run into many thousands of dollars.

Gold bracelets and necklaces were stripped from the women. The men were forced to yield their watches, diamond studs and rings. One victim, after being robbed, was forced to lie face down on the floor.

BENDER TO BATTLE RURAL CONTROL OF OHIO LEGISLATURE

Senator Claims That Farm Minority Rules Ohio House and Senate; Cities Have But Little Representation for Heavy Population

Columbus, April 9.—Equal representation, whereas now the rural minority is said to control the Ohio legislature, will be sought in a referendum fight by Sen. George H. Bender, Cleveland, according to that member of the general assembly here today.

Plans have already been made for the circulation of petitions proposing a constitutional amendment giving the cities their fair share of representation according to population, the Cleveland solon declared.

Bender, who led the famous referendum fight on the Marshall bill which resulted in the "justices of peace" measure being defeated, said that he was prepared to press the initiated amendment with even more vigor than he pressed the "J. P." referendum.

Appeals to Cities

In support of his charges and in asking the cities "to take this chance to throw off the shackles" Bender pointed out that the urban population in the state in 1920 was 3,677,136 while the rural population was only 2,082,258. This has increased accordingly during the last nine years, the senator claims, and despite this fact, he charged, the rural minority is able to control the legislature.

As a result, Bender declared, legislation giving cities free exercise of home rule cannot be enacted.

Citing the present system in the lower house of the legislature, whereby there is one Cuyahoga county member for every 58,912 of population, while Yinton county has one representative for its 12,075 people and Wyandot county has one representative for its population of 19,481, the Cleveland member of the upper house stated that this was unfair and should be changed.

One For Each County

This situation exists because the constitution of the Buckeye state, every county must have at least one member in the lower house.

The petition which Bender will circulate in hope of getting the required 100,000 signatures for a referendum vote at the next election, follows, in part:

"It is proposed to fix the number of members in the general assembly at 40 in the senate and 120 in the house. Each county shall continue to be a unit for purposes of representation in the house and senate but the present provision securing one representative to each county is eliminated."

"The governor, auditor and secretary."

JONES LAW TO DEMAND MORE U. S. ATTORNEYS

Claim Prosecutions Now Entail Far More Detail

Washington, April 9.—Passage of the Jones "five and ten" law will necessitate a material increase in the forces of United States attorneys in most districts of the country, it was learned today at the justice department.

Prosecutions under the Jones law were expected to make the work of the United States attorneys from 33 to 50 per cent heavier because under it all cases become felonies and must be presented to grand juries prior to trial.

Heretofore many prohibition cases were not taken before grand juries but were tried on information issued by the court, instead of indictments. But to secure an indictment a considerable amount of evidence must be placed before grand juries by the district attorneys. This was unnecessary in obtaining an information.

The necessity for increased personnel will be studied by Atty. Gen. Mitchell in connection with his investigation of the condition of district attorneys' offices. Many reports already have been received and a number of U. S. attorneys have asked for authority to hire additional assistants.

In some states, where wet sentiment predominates and there are no state laws, such as New York and Maryland, and probably later Wisconsin, most of the work of the district attorneys involves prosecuting prohibition cases.

And Costs For Possession Of Intoxicating Liquor

George Cristo, Ambridge, Pa., arrested Saturday night by Salem police on a charge of unlawfully possessing intoxicating liquors, changed his plea of not guilty to guilty, Monday, and was fined $100 and costs by Mayor Phil Hiddleson.

Cristo was arrested in a raid upon the home of Andy Kenst, West Fifth st., where a christening celebration was being held. He denied ownership of a quart bottle, said to have contained liquor, which he is reported to have picked up, when first arraigned.

Cristo also agreed to remain out of the state of Ohio for a period of one year, on his second arraignment.

From Palatial Residence To Jail Cell For Sinclair

Washington, April 9.—From a 40-room house to an eight-by-ten brick cigar box with a single barred window.

That's the astonishing transition facing Harry F. Sinclair, multimillionaire oil magnate sentenced to serve 90 days in the District of Columbia jail.

All through the lower and intermediate courts his trial for contempt of the senate Teapot Dome oil investigating committee has wound its tortuous way, only to end in the supreme court with the original sentence of 90 days and a $500 fine unanimously upheld.

And now, unless his famous "million dollar defense" can perform a legal miracle, the man who listened nightly to the cream of Broadway's lilting melodies and slept on down pillows will get what sleep he can on a canvas cot to the "crown of 'Tie in the Jailhouse Now'" as rendered variously by his fellow prisoners.

There'll be no special preparation for Harry Sinclair at 209 Nineteenth st. S. E., where the big red jail stands. It has received many prisoners. It expects the oil magnate in two weeks or a month, depending on whether his counsel elects to delay matters 25 days by making a seemingly futile appeal.

Sinclair will be "just another prisoner," according to W. L. "Peak" jail chief. He'll have a number somewhere near the (Continued on Page 4)

Two More School Girls Missing

GERTRUDE SCHMIDT, aged 18, and Hazel Mallett, aged 17, both of New York, have been added to the already long list of missing school girls. These girls, fast friends, have been gone only a short time and hope is felt that they will return shortly, but a desperate search is being made for them.

CHARACTER TRAINING MAY BECOME REALITY

Columbiana Man Visions Public Schools Teaching Along These Lines; Makes Suggestion In Wake Of Defeated Bible Bill

Lisbon, April 9.—Out of the ashes of the Bible bill, cast on to the trash heap by the Ohio General Assembly, has come a constructive suggestion which may bear fruit in the Eighty-ninth Assembly two years hence. It is that character training become a part of the curriculum of the public schools.

While various clergymen were before the house schools committee arguing the merits and demerits of compulsory Bible reading in the public schools, the need for character training among the school children became evident.

Those who were most bitter in denouncing the sectarianism of Bible reading in public schools were convinced that if some plan could be worked out to teach boys and girls to grow up into better citizens without dragging in the religious phase it should be adopted.

The first step was taken last week when Representative W. H. Van Fossan of Columbiana county introduced a resolution in the house calling for an investigation and report to the next general assembly the advisability of establishing a course in character training in the schools of Ohio.

The resolution follows:

"Whereas, the teaching of right habits and ideals in the public schools of the state and the formation of character in the pupils enrolled in them is the very cornerstone of all true education for the making of our future American citizens; and

"Whereas, the members of the 88th general assembly and many of the people of the state have shown a strong desire that instruction to that end shall be given by the teachers in all of our public schools;

"Therefore, be it resolved that the director of education, and such other persons as he may ask to assist him, are hereby authorized and directed to prepare a manual of subject matter and suggestions on character-training for use in the public schools of the state, and shall report a tentative draft of the same to the 89th General Assembly."

FRATERNITY REFUSES TO AID IN HALTING COLLEGE DRINKING

Charlottesville, Va., April 9.—There is no American history what has popularly been known as "the whisky rebellion." It took George Washington and federal troops to put it down.

Something very akin to that "rebellion" has broken out in the student body of the University of Virginia and given college authorities, as well as the prohibition authorities, something to think about.

The whole row, which has been seething and boiling beneath the surface for weeks, broke into the open today when it was revealed that members of the Delta Tau Delta fraternity here have refused to cooperate with or assist the authorities in stamping out collegiate drinking.

As a result, an investigation is in progress which threatens the revocation of the chapter charter by national headquarters in New York.

RESIDENTS ASK IMPROVED ROAD

Appeal Before County Commissioners
To Request Better Highway
In Columbiana County

Lisbon, April 9.—Residents of Clarkson and Rogers desire a two-mile road between the two communities improved, and this fact has been made known to the county commissioners, a delegation of residents of both places having appeared before the board petitioning the improvement.

A number of years ago this road was slugged, but at this time it is practically worked out. Last year a mile of concrete road was poured between Clarkson and the East Liverpool-Youngstown rd., giving the two communities an outlet over an improved highway, but over a longer distance.

The commissioners have not determined finally whether or not the Clarkson-Rogers rd. will be improved, the subject having been taken under advisement.

Sheep Killing Dog Shot; Owner Fined

Lisbon, April 9.—John Marks residing in Center township owned a dog that roamed about other fields at night and two sheep were killed by it, according to a report filed with County Dog Warden C. E. Donahy. Then some one unknown killed the dog. A charge against Marks was filed before Justice of the Peace M. K. Zimmerman charging him with failure to keep his dog tied between sundown and sunrise to which Marks entered a plea of guilty. He was fined $10 and costs.

VICE-PRESIDENT NOT SUCCESSOR OF CHIEF SOLON

Mayor Declines To Give Name of Choice At Present

SELECTION WILL BE MADE AT MEETING

Busy Session Looms; To Pay Tribute To H. A. Gager

Mayor Phil Hiddleson will appoint a successor to the post of president of council, left vacant by the death of Harry A. Gager. This became known today when City Solicitor Cecil K. Scott issued a ruling to that effect. The opinion was based on Ohio statutes.

The code, Scott states, fails to provide for the advancement of the body's vice president to the president's chair, in case of death of the latter, forcing the responsibility of the appointment to the mayor.

Mayor Hiddleson will submit his selection for the office in tonight's session of council. He refused to name the person today.

Councilman Not Eligible

A councilman is not eligible for the position, unless he first resigns his post as a member of the body. In case Hiddleson appoints a member of council, which it was rumored today he will do, the party selected must submit his resignation as solon before he can be legally accepted as the head of the body.

Councilman P. J. Dean, vice president, was considered Gager's successor, in that he is president pro tem of the body.

Scott's ruling on the issue follows:

"In case of death, resignation, removal or disability of any officer or director in any department of any municipal corporation, unless otherwise provided by law, the mayor shall fill the appointment, and such appointment shall continue for the unexpired term, and until a successor is duly appointed or such disability is removed."

General Code, 4252

To Honor H. A. Gager

A resolution will be adopted by the solons, honoring the memory of their deceased executive, who died in Cleveland, following an operation.

The resolution was drafted today by Atty. Scott, assisted by a special committee composed of Councilman Max Adler, W. U. Filler, and George Slocum.

The president's chair will be covered with flowers, and will be kept vacant for two meetings, at the recommendation of Mayor Hiddleson.

Action on Hiddleson's veto of the street naming ordinance, the traffic code, and several other important matters are scheduled for appearance during the business session. Scott, who has deferred his legal opinion on the status of Frank L. Rollins as councilman pending extensive investigations, will submit his ruling on the matter.

NO TRACE OF MISSING MAN

Fishermen And Tiny Outboard Craft Not Discovered Despite Search; Bay Rough Today

Sandusky, O., April 9.—Searchers today resumed the apparently hopeless hunt for three Fremont men who have been missing since Sunday morning when they put out in a small boat and failed to return after Sandusky bay had been swept by a heavy windstorm.

The three missing men are C. J. Notestrine, Carl Graves and Earl W. Fought and no trace of them has been yet revealed. The U. S. coast guard station at Marblehead admitted today that the report that their boat was picked up yesterday was erroneous. Two oil cans were found floating near the mouth of Sandusky river but it is not known whether or not they were aboard the missing boat.

High winds made the bay "ball" today and the search was carried on at the risk of those who volunteered to enter into it.

Paris, April 9.—It was persistently reported here today that Prince Serge Mdivani, husband of Pola Negri, the Polish film star, will sue for divorce.

CONVICT TAKEN IN CALIFORNIA

Man Believed Burned In Fire Arrested In San Francisco

Columbus, April 9.—Bruno J. Kochynski, Dayton, O., and prisoner of the Ohio State penitentiary, who was believed to have been burned to death in the disastrous Junction City brick plant fire, has been arrested by San Francisco police, according to advices reaching Warden P. J. Thomas of the state institution here today.

Twenty convicts were reported missing after the fire, which destroyed the dormitory building. Undertakers say that they buried 15 bodies. Three others have been found and returned to the institution, and with the Dayton man in custody of police, there only remains one unaccounted for.

Kochynski was admitted to the penitentiary here on July 11, 1927, to begin serving a one-to-seven year term for larceny. A short time afterwards he was made an "honor man" at the brick plant near New Lexington.

He was arrested on a charge of robbery in the Pacific Coast city, according to information here. It is not known whether he will be returned here immediately or be allowed to stand trial in that city. If he is convicted he will serve his term in California, and then be arrested. If he is freed, he will be held for authorities here.

Grocer Fined

Lisbon, April 9.—Charged with selling bread without having the weight of the loaf plainly stamped upon the outside of the wrapper, W. J. Johnson, manager of an A. & P. store at Wellsville was fined $25 and costs when he entered a plea of guilty before Justice of the Peace M. K. Zimmerman at Lisbon. The charge against Johnson was filed by W. H. Barr, county sealer of weights and measures.

PUBLIC OPINION

Several million citizens of the United States have rubbed their eyes the last few days and queried, "What's all this that the people of Wisconsin are doing about the Volstead act?"

They have done nothing about the Volstead act, but they have expressed the opinion of Wisconsin as to what should be done about it. They have voted to repeal the home enforcement laws of their states and have said very plainly that the sons of the beer barons of Milwaukee want their beer and that they want it strong. The Hoover plurality in Wisconsin evidently was not caused by the dry plank in the Republican platform.

By so doing they have aligned themselves with the attitudes of four other states which have asserted themselves as opposed to prohibition. These states are: New York, Montana, Maryland and Nevada. Two states, Illinois and Massachusetts, have objected by means of the referendum. Connecticut and Rhode Island have been more positive and have refused to ratify the Eighteenth amendment.

What is happening? Has victory gone to the heads of the dries and caused them to get lazy? Have the enforcers of prohibition been so busy quelling rebellions that they have let a new army mobilize itself and attack them from the rear? Is it a losing battle that the United States is waging against a time-honored practice?

These are all questions which it would be dangerous and futile to answer. The only answer must come from an old gentleman whom we represent as carrying a scythe. With that scythe he will clean out the perishable and will leave marks on the imperishable. If the United States is strong enough to maintain a piece of drastic social legislation, which certain strong leaders think will benefit the nation, we shall never have alcohol again, at least not honorably. Meanwhile, Wisconsin clamors for beer.

What Others Say

NEW SECRETARY OF STATE

Henry L. Stimson takes office as secretary of state at a time when the foreign power of the United States for good or evil is greater than that of any other nation. He will not determine American foreign policy alone. The president, in co-operation with the senate, will do that. But the secretary will be responsible for the method of conducting foreign affairs, which in many ways is as important as policy.

Ambassador Morrow in Mexico City, for instance, has demonstrated that a change in the method of diplomacy without basic change in policy can transform foreign suspicion into trust and potential enemies into friends.

Stimson is recommended by such judges of character and ability as Hughes, Root, Taft and Hoover. His record shows him to be a brilliant lawyer and good administrator. He was a successful secretary of war under Taft. He forced a Nicaraguan settlement as Coolidge's special envoy. During the last year he was governor general of the Philippines.

Like other men, Col. Stimson has record shows him to be a brilliant but cold. He is self-controlled, but sometimes self-righteous. He gets things done, but he is apt to use the big stick. In the past he has been essentially a disciplinarian rather than a diplomat.

If Stimson attempts to apply to our general Latin-American, far-eastern and European problems the method of ultimatum and dictatorship which he employed in Nicaragua, he will jeopardize the peace of the world.

It is perhaps an injustice even to suggest the possibility that Stimson may let any of his old methods rule his new job. Doubtless he has learned by this time his methods in Nicaragua were resented throughout Latin-America and created a major problem in diplomacy and trade which the Hoover good-will trip has not entirely eliminated. Doubtless he will not be tempted to deal with other governments and peoples in such manner.

Americans with much less intellect than Stimson have sense enough to know that there is a great deal of distrust and hatred in the United States abroad in the world, and that peace can be made permanent only by a diplomacy of pa-tiency, co-operation and friendliness. Our foreign problems are more difficult. Friction with a dozen nations over our tariff and prohibition laws, Chinese extra-territoriality, Russian recognition, South American trade, Caribbean protectorates, Philippine independence, foreign debts, World court, rivalry over raw materials, markets and credits and overshadowing all the freedom of the seas dispute and naval armament race with Great Britain.

To handle these problems, Stimson must be more than a good lawyer and competent executive; he must develop statesmanship of a high order.—Columbus Citizen.

USE OF ACID MILK IN INFANT FEEDING

BY ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.
(United States Senator from New York)

There are almost endless problems associated with the feeding of babies. The breast-fed youngster is lucky. If there is an abundant supply of mother's milk of good quality, the baby thrives and is well. Otherwise the household is upset.

DR. COPELAND

At least once a month you read in my column that the mother's job is the hardest job in the world. It is a satisfying job, but it is none the less trying on that account.

Worry, watchful care, attention to detail, promptness and everlasting demands make the raising of the baby an anxious and wearing period in a woman's life. But it is only by the application of all these attentions that the infant's health can be safe-guarded.

The bottle-fed infant is a special problem. It is a problem to the doctor and the nurse, as well as to the mother.

Cow's milk is physically and chemically different from human milk. To make the former at all suitable for baby's digestion, it must be "modified." It must be diluted and otherwise treated to adapt it to the infant's need.

The worst of it is that, with the best of scientific effort, there are children who do not thrive on the ordinary bottle mixtures. For various reasons they cannot digest them.

Because of these experiences there has been much experimentation in recent years to find a satisfactory substitute for the usual combination. Ways have been sought to make cow's milk more suitable for the baby.

One method proposed is to give acid milk sour milk. This will seem strange if you have not thought about it. But one reason why some infants do not digest the milk as they should is because there is a lack of acid in the stomach juices. To overcome this lack, acid is added to the milk.

If somebody besides an anxious mother should read these lines, it is well to consider the importance of acid milk in certain dyspepsias or indigestions of adults. Many persons have enjoyed great benefits from the taking of buttermilk and similar preparations.

In infant feeding several ways of acidifying the milk have been tried. After long experimentation lactic acid has been decided upon as most satisfactory.

What is lactic acid? It is the acid which is found in ordinary sour milk. But it is formed too, in the fermentation of other substances and can be made by the chemist. When separated it is like a syrup in its nature, but it is very bitter to the taste.

Whatever acid is recommended by the doctor, it is added to the milk, drop by drop. All the time the mixture is vigorously stirred to avoid the making of big curds. Any acid placed in milk will cause it to curdle and this is true of lactic acid. To prevent the formation of curds of large size, the stirring is essential.

To this mixture honey, corn syrup, or corn sugar is added. There results a digestible and palatable mixture.

Mind you—I am not recommending this form of feeding for YOUR baby. Whether this youngster requires acid milk will be determined by your doctor. It is my desire, merely, to let you know there are advanced methods in infant feeding, methods intended to overcome fermentation and the other unpleasant effects of ordinary milk. If it is not desirable to use acid milk, if the usual mixtures agree.

There can be no doubt that this system of feeding will relieve the anxiety of an occasional mother. If you think you are one such mother, talk with your doctor.

The Stars Say—

For Wednesday, April 19

ACCORDING to the position of the planets ruling this day, many steps may be taken in the direction of important destinies. Continued efforts in the service of long-established institutions, fidelity to elderly persons, as well as industry and application in all lines of endeavor, are slated, according to the stars, for reward and recognition. The feminine interest may be conspicuous, not only in matters of favors and preferment, but sentimentally. Personal affiliations should be happy and prosperous and new projects should flourish. But be on guard against flighty or hasty judgments or scandal.

Those whose birthday it is may look for a year of recognition and reward for faithful service and diligence, especially to elderly persons and institutions. Purely personal associations also should thrive and have happy denouements. New projects share the auspicious rule, but be on guard against rash judgments or false reports. A child born on this day may have many substantial talents and virtues, reaping happiness and prosperity, for worthy endeavors.

The heart reads aright its destiny sometimes.—Owen Meredith.

FORMER WARDEN SCORES SYSTEM

Attacks Willebrandt As Menace To Federal Court System

Los Angeles, April 9.—Declaring Mabel Walker Willebrandt, assistant United States attorney general, to be "drunk with power," John W. Snook, until recently warden of Alcatraz, today made a scathing denunciation of her spy system as a menace to the American system of government and a "disgrace" to the nation.

"She has income tax, prohibition and federal penitentiary department to handle, and that is more than any single person can handle. Nothing short of congressional action can curb her wholesale flouting of justice," declared Snook. "I have sacrificed my position for a principle, and consider it was worth while to do so."

"It may seem ungracious to quarrel with a woman, but there are times in the affairs of a nation when wrongs must be righted regardless of sex. I feel that such a time has arrived to expose Mrs. Willebrandt and her policy."

"The espionage policy inaugurated by her involving the falsification of government documents in order to place in penal institutions as bonafide convicts has prostituted our courts and is an insult to Americanism."

SINCLAIR

And as "just another prisoner" the millionaire oil man will endure a tedious routine accorded black and white alike.

When he is committed his finger prints will be taken, he'll be searched and washed. Then he'll be assigned a cell, not alone, for the jail is crowded. His cell mates may be bank robbers, bootleggers, almost anything. They don't separate for offenses. He will be placed in a cell with two or more white male inmates of approximately his own age.

That's as far as segregation goes. His famous racehorses, Zev and others, fare better than will their master once he reaches the district jailhouse.

In jail the man used to gold will eat with a tin knife and fork, from a tin plate.

The man who showered as he pleased, will get two baths a week—he has to take 'em.

The man who used the world for a playground and workshop will have a cell for a playground, and the big jail and its grounds for a business establishment. He may paint during his stay. He may hoe the garden, cut the grass, or wash the clothes. The jailer will decide what he must do.

The man to whom the clubs of the world swung their doors will be initiated into a new one, the "waiting for the evening mail to bring me bail" club. Of course, unlike his fellow clubmen, Sinclair has bail to burn, but no chance to use it.

In sum, Harry Sinclair will be injected into a strange world, a world in which everything will be startlingly and painfully different.

Neil Brinkley Sees Big Style Changes

Famous Artist Predicts 1930 Girl Will Be Modern in Daytime, Old-Fashioned in Eve

By COZETTE DOUGLASS
(Special Staff Writer for IIN)

NEIL BRINKLEY, the foremost of all delineators of charming girl types—a woman who is known to millions and whose name is a household word—predicts that the 1930 miss will be a "fifty-fifty" girl.

"In the daytime she will be strictly modern," declares Miss Brinkley, who is just as charming and popular as the flappers she creates. "Yes, the daytime will be given to sports clothes and to the abbreviated attire that looks as if it were here to stay."

WHAT A CHANGE!
"But in the evenings! That will be different. That is when the 1930 girl will become mid-Victorian. Yes, she'll be positively old-fashioned in her variations of crinolines—only she will probably prefer organdies and tulle."

"And while she'll be old-fashioned under the moonlight, yet you may depend upon it that Miss America will take good care to see that she is very 'new-fashioned' in her adaptations of the creations her great-grandmother wore."

Miss Brinkley is now in Hollywood, where she is renewing acquaintances with movie stars, many of whom are close friends of hers.

BIG RECEPTION
Her arrival in Los Angeles was the signal for such a reception as is given to few people. It looked as if the whole city was at the station to welcome the popular artist, and Hollywood was deserted for the day.

Miss Brinkley made her prediction about 1930 styles at the request of a convention of Pacific Coast modistes. She is in Los Angeles for an indefinite stay.

MINISTER SUES MINNIE KENNEDY

Mother of Aimee McPherson Named By Pastor In Breach Of Promise Proceedings

Seattle, Wash., April 9.—Charged with breach of promise, Mrs. Minnie Kennedy, mother of Aimee Semple McPherson, noted evangelist, today was being sued for $50,000 by Rev. H. H. Clark, a clergyman of the Christian denomination.

The suit sets forth that Mrs. Kennedy agreed to furnish Clark a tabernacle in Seattle, a gospel ship to be used for missionary work in Alaska and along the Pacific coast, and that he was repeatedly persuaded into highly compromising situations with Mrs. Kennedy upon her promise to marry him.

The suit alleges that Mrs. Kennedy refused to go through with the marriage plans, thereby causing the plaintiff to be humiliated and heartbroken.

Portland, Ore., April 9.—Nervous and indignant, Mrs. Minnie Kennedy today angrily denied that she ever promised to marry Rev. H. H. Clark, Seattle minister.

"Clark," she cried "is lower than the man who kisses and tells, 'he never kissed, yet he tells, his charges are absurd.'"

tary of state determine the ratio of representation according to the decennial census, apportion the state into representative and senatorial districts, and determine the number of representatives each county for district is entitled to during the 10-year period following each census.

System Explained
"If a county does not have sufficient population to entitle it to a representative or senator it may be joined to a contiguous county or counties to form a representative or senatorial district. No part of a county shall be added to another county to make a district. However, nothing herein shall be construed to prevent two or more representatives from being elected from one county or district at any one election if in so doing the purposes of equality in representation may be better served."

The amendment provides that the whole population of the state as determined by federal census, shall be divided into 120 equal parts and the quotient shall be the ratio of representation in the house. The ratio in the senate would be determined by dividing the population by 30 according to the provisions.

At the last session of the legislature, which has just unofficially adjourned, there were 31 senators and 133 representatives.

Parents Happy When Baby Sleeps Soundly
Here's a way to soothe crying, wakeful babies to sleep quickly and easily. It's the way doctors endorse, and millions of mothers have proved is safe and harmless. A few drops of purely vegetable, pleasant-tasting Fletcher's Castoria, has the most fretful, restless baby or child asleep in a few minutes! And for colic, constipation, colds and upset spells, there's nothing like Castoria. The Charles H. Fletcher signature is the mark of genuine Castoria. Avoid imitations and be safe. Adv

Cannon Still Factor in Chinese Fleet

Mexican Rebel Rout Ends in Slaughter

A bare shadow of the movement which three months ago threatened to engulf the existing government in Mexico emerged from a four-day battle in southern Chihuahua. General Calles (center) handled his troops to such advantage that he was able to report many hundreds of rebels killed. General Almazan (left) caught the retreating rebels near Jimenez (shown above) at a stop where they could not move forward on account of a burned railroad bridge. The Federal fire is reported to have mowed down hundreds. General Miguel M. Acosta (below, right) is shown reporting successful operations in the south to his chief (left), President Portes Gil.

Papal Standard Unfurled to Breeze

Annual Interclass Meet Scheduled At Reilly Stadium Friday

Opening Track Event Of Season May Show Team's Real Strength

Salem High tracksters will get their first hard workout of the season this week when they meet in the opening competitive event of the season at Reilly Stadium, Friday afternoon, in the annual interclass field and track meet.

What chances the Red and Black has of hanging on to its county and district championship this year, will be in a way determined, after this affair, which brings all varsity candidates into action for the class title. Few lettermen of the past season will get into action, and in all probability it will be a hard-fought, tough not a record-breaking affair.

The seniors, who for several years have been favorites to win the title, due to the advantage held in experience over their younger colleagues, this year, are conceded little chance for first honors, everything in the way of track talent, apparently being enrolled in freshmen, sophomore and junior classes. The destinies of the Springer men in the coming events that mean something will be in a large way decided by the show-up of these youngsters.

Libon Here, April 20

Coch Wilbur Springer hopes to engage one of the neighboring schools for a regular meet on Saturday, but none has been scheduled as yet. Libon will invade Reilly stadium next week, and on the 24th, the annual freshmen competition will be held.

April 27th Salem, Akron Central, Canton McKinley will gather at the stadium for their annual battle, and unless there is some change in the present line of talent at the Red and Black institution, it will finish on the short end for the first time in years. Last year McKinley won out, but Salem was minus several of its stars, and found satisfaction in this alibi. This year it is minus those same stars and plenty of others.

The next meet after this triangular affair will be held at either the Ohio Relays, Columbus, or the Carnegie Tech meet, at Pittsburgh, on May 3-4. The county and district meets are scheduled the two following Saturdays, respectively.

Face Big Problem

Springer and his chief aide, J. M. Ruffner, have a mighty big job in front of them, in rounding out an aggregation from the horde which reported for practice last week, but it may be possible that something can be formed to give the team strength. It looks bad, very much so at present, but the season hasn't even started as yet.

Several of the boys who last year performed in the Junior High meet, may come through and make the squad, and have also excellent chances to annex a title for their freshmen class. The sophs have a few good boys, and the juniors go them a few better. The seniors, with Ed Sidinger, Freddie Guilford, and a couple of others, will put out the most lettermen, but the majority of them are only one-sport performers, and as a whole, if one of the other classes comes through with any kind of a flash, it will not have a great deal of trouble licking its older colleagues.

ILLNESS OF FIVE YEARS YIELDS TO KONJOLA MEDICINE

Free From All Aches and Pains, Lady Is Jubilant Over Famous New Compound

MRS. CORA B. KIPP

"I want not only to thank the makers of Konjola, but I feel it my duty to let everyone know of the splendid health I have found in this medicine," said Mrs. Cora B. Kipp, 107 Humphrey Road, Columbus.

"For five years, anything I ate caused gas pains and bloating; my heart palpitated so that I was frightened. My stomach was swollen so that I could hardly remove my clothing. My blood pressure was high. I had dizzy spells, and it seemed that I could never shake off a cold, my system was so depleted. I read of Konjola and decided to give it a trial. Results were quick, and after a brief treatment all of my symptoms and pains disappeared. Today I feel so good that I can hardly believe I am the same person. I owe my new health to this medicine and I shall always be glad to recommend and endorse Konjola to others who are in ill health."

Konjola is sold in Salem at all J. R. Lease drug stores and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section. — Adv.

Crop of Kid Catchers for Major Leagues

The Red Sox boast the baby catcher of the season in 19-year-old Bob Asbjornson, right, and are expecting sensational work from him since he hoisted the ball over the Fenway Park clock at Boston, Mass. Dick Ferrell, another youngster, who will receive for the St. Louis Browns this season, has made a decided hit with Manager Howley. The Dodgers are still watching their twenty-year-old Cuban find Alfonso Lopez, left, who may, or may not develop as hoped for. Bill Dickey, center, twenty-two-year-old catcher, has been officially okayed by Miller Huggins to defend the Yanks this season behind the bat.

Fretful Athletes Now Subdued And Baseball Again Hits Normalcy

BY DAVIS J. WALSH

New York, April 9.—It is encouraging to note today that baseball seems to be itself again after some of its fretful athletes, determined to seek self-expression even if they had to climb four flights for it, were instrumental in making the 1929 training season the most turbulent in modern history. True, the boys were careful not to express themselves on their employer's time. They went in for it after business hours; too long after business hours, as a matter of fact.

In consequence, the managers of five ball clubs were constrained to make a number of overt gestures to the desired effect was achieved and house detectives could be permitted to go home for the night.

Judge Fuchs is said to have been one of those who had to speak firmly to help on several occasions, although I'm inclined to think that this must have been somewhat exaggerated. The Braves have nothing to celebrate about it, Mr. Heilmann, Sox for that matter; yet Mr. Blackburne had to take his team captain, Mr. Shires, so severely to task that the latter had to leave town before he could get away from the herange.

The departure, of course, wasn't permanent, although Mr. Shires made it look that way. He even took his spats and cane with him. However, he'll be back at such time as the management sees fit to summon him, for baseball is an institution that is determined to get along without eligible ball players only when they die.

Mr. Harris, of Detroit, also had to quell some of his communists with a stern hand. Later, he declared that the incident had been magnified out of all reason but that was after he and Mr. Heilmann decided to be very broad minded and forgive each other. Previously, Mr. Harris had announced that he was asking waivers on Mr. Heilmann, which in baseball is a most scurrilous procedure, but this must have been a lot of throat gargle, inasmuch as Mr. Heilmann again is adorning the regular lineup.

As I say, baseball can become very irked at the good ones but it never allows its spleen to interfere with sound judgment. Mr. Heilmann still can hit that old potato and, everything else being equal, Mr. Harris naturally would prefer to have Mr. Heilmann hit it in his behalf.

The same altruistic motives prompted Mr. Bush of Pittsburgh to fine Mr. Fussell, his pitcher, one hundred dollars and Mr. Mack, of Philadelphia, to issue only a scathing rebuke to his Mr. Orvill. They could have sent both of the derelicts on their way, if it wasn't for the realization that Mr. Fussell and Mr. Orvill could win almost no ball games for them if the young men were summoned in Council Bluffs.

However, the great uprising of 1929 happily seems to be no more, leaving marked tranquility in its wake. Things, as a matter of fact, again are pretty much as they were, except that Mr. Shires is temporarily minus one job and Mr. Fussell is very permanently minus one hundred dollars.

Shaute To Open For Cleveland Crew

New Orleans, April 9.—Manager Roger Peckinpaugh, of the Cleveland Indians, announced today that Joe Shaute probably will start on the mound in the opening game against Detroit, at Cleveland, a week from today.

John Millus, formerly with the Pirates, will start the second game, according to indications, and Ken Holloway, acquired from the Tigers, the third, Willis Hudlin, promising young right hander who has been pitching good ball for the Indians for two years, is not yet in the best of condition and probably will be held for relief work during the early season.

"THE CIRCUS KID"

Bringing with it the flavor and atmosphere of the circus to such a degree that savants, peanuts and popcorn could almost be scooped by the audience, "The Circus Kid," an outstanding screen production of the year, is now showing at the Royal Theater.

And it was not only gripping drama, with the heart-throbs, romance, jealousies and conflicts of circus folk, and a generous heaven of comedy, that is witnessed but also a circus—a real honest "big show"—from the "grand entry" behind the band through a dozen or more clever acts to a thrilling finale.

In which the climax of James Ashmore Creehan's story is deftly blended with the colorful performance.

The regeneration of a lion-tamer who had "lost his nerve" after being clawed by a lion and reforms it under dramatic circumstances in the development of the plot is the theme of "The Circus Kid," a role ably handled by Joe E. Brown, old-time circus performer and stage comedian. Little Frankie Darro, juvenile star of many productions, contributes to the comedy as well as to the breath-taking thrills in the title-role and the leading female character is essayed by Helene Costello, who makes a most fascinating equestrienne. Lionel Joliffe and Sam Nelson complete the cast.

Any permanent wave or water wave lasts much longer and looks much nicer when Danderine is used instead of water to "set" the wave.

STYLE EDICTS

Paris, April 9.—The "caterpillar sandal" which is the very newest crink in the shoe line this spring, will unfortunately be appreciated only by the lucky woman with a small and perfect foot. For with this curious wooden sole, half an inch thick, it will certainly not enhance any foot above the average size.

The sole made of wood in three parts for morning and beach wear, very light and practically impervious to the dampness, while the leather used for afternoon and evening models is surrounded by aluminum, gilded or lacquered and occasionally sculptured to match the heel.

All the new spring shoes are extremely low in cut which was rather to be expected after a year of models that mounted well up about the foot. There are various sandal models with two or three straps crossing the ankle, with uppers cut down to the level of the sole, often with the heels themselves done in openwork strappings. The most pronounced models are for evening with sometimes little more than the sole in covering.

Morning shoes for wear with the tailleur are normally high, often being some variant of the pump or simple one-strap model.

Sports shoes are of the Oxford outline, but saddle straps and moccasin piercings vary the designs. Brown tones of leather are considered the smartest, ranging from a deep mahogany to pale, greenish beige.

Spring stockings in general will be worn in colors that will give as closely as possible, the illusion of bare legs. But the new spring tones for frocks have brought in some new ones for stockings as well. The poppy-reds call for a slightly pinkish tone.

THE HOME KITCHEN

By Jeannette Young Norton

In the old days when a woman was skilful in cake or pie-making, she achieved a splendid reputation as a hostess. Nowadays, any lady who knows how to make fine cakes and pies opens a tea room. You may talk of simple apple pie, or a plain layer cake, but only those who have wrestled with mixtures and stoves and sticky pans know that good pastry-making is the most difficult of all cookery. There are so many things to watch carefully—what to mix and when, how to regulate temperature, exactly the right moment to remove from the stove, and so on. Of course, like everything else, cake and pie-making can be learned, but it does take time and practice.

Meanwhile there's no reason why the family should be deprived of the home-made desserts—which are always more appreciated than store products, even if they may be less perfect. And there are several types of desserts so easy to make that they are absolutely foolproof. Anybody who can read and is willing to follow directions can produce successful desserts of this type, and in very short order.

Keep on hand among staples these things:

First—Gelatin, both the plain and a few packages of the fruit-flavored variety.

Second—Several cans of fruit (for emergency when you can't get fresh). Apricots, crushed pineapple, canned prunes, are sufficient.

Third—Several kinds of flavoring: vanilla, almond, and a jar of preserved ginger, will last quite a while and help you produce unique effects in your desserts.

Cream, heavy enough for whipping, is an indispensable first aid to quick desserts.

There is a basic recipe for Fruit Whip which is always popular, and which you can vary with any kind of fruit you happen to have. Try this one:

Apple Fluff

One cup thick apple sauce, half cup cream, one teaspoon lemon juice, four tablespoons chopped preserved ginger; sugar to taste.

Whip the cream stiff, then mix with apple sauce and other ingredients. Pile in sherbet cups and chill. Serve with lady fingers, or slices of sponge or pound cake, if desired, but it's a rich dessert by itself.

Apricot Whip

One can apricots, half cup cream, sugar to taste; quarter teaspoon almond extract.

Drain the apricots and set aside the liquid for use in lemonade or any other fruit drink. Mash the apricots, blend with the whipped cream, almond extract and sugar. Chill.

Prune whip is made the same way and almond is a much more pleasing flavoring for prunes than vanilla.

As for the gelatines, they are very easy. Follow the directions carefully. Soak plain gelatine in cold water about 10 minutes first—but the prepared fruit gelatins do not require soaking. It is added to hot water. Here is a fancy gelatine, which can be varied with any fruit or other flavoring.

Orange Bavarian Cream

Two lemons, two oranges, two level tablespoons of gelatine, one cup of sugar, two cups of cream.

Soak gelatine in a little cold water. Heat the fruit juices together, with sugar, and when dissolved remove from stove and add gelatine. Set aside to cool. When cold, add the whipped cream, pour into a mold and put on ice to harden. Grating the lemon and orange rind into the fruit juice adds to the flavor.

HOME-MAKING HELPS

By Wanda Barton

Lighting, like bridge, is an occasional cause of conflict in the home. Before marriage, how many lamps were lighted, if any, was never a cause of discussion. But once the last wedding present is placed (or stored) and the living-room in apple-pie order, the first kick is likely to be about the lighting arrangement. It's too light for one and not light enough for the other. Or there's only one really good lamp fit to read by, and its light cannot be depended on to illuminate two easy chairs on opposite sides of the room.

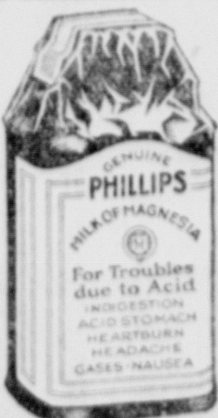

Two good reading lamps are just as necessary in the living room as two newspapers at breakfast. Some eyes require very strong light for reading, and if the shade and stand are properly chosen, this can be furnished without flooding the rest of the room in irritating brilliance. Of course, there is no need to use any kind of glaring lamp nowadays. There are several kinds of special bulbs which give as powerful a light as anybody can want, but indirectly and the strong light is thrown on the surface below the eyes, not into the eyes.

Fortunately, the central lighting fixture is gradually disappearing from all the living-rooms. In its time of course, the idea was good. A central lamp is the survival of the sparkling glass prism chandelier of the Louis XIV period, when it mirrored numerous candles and lighted up tremendously halls or ballrooms. It is still appropriate for such spaces. But in the average living-room or dining-room of a city apartment, or a little country house, the central lighting fixture dominates the room too much. Moreover, it floods the whole place with light, which is rarely what anybody wants. Lighting is best and softest when used only where wanted, leaving the rest of the room in a mellow twilight.

For the library table in a room used by two or more persons, the twin lamps at either end are good-looking and will solve the lighting problem amicably for both. These lamps should, of course, be carefully chosen to blend in with the color scheme of the room and should not be in too striking contrast.

A beautiful decorative effect for the foyer of a city apartment was achieved by one woman who objected to the hanging lamp she found when she moved into the

Too Much ACID

Many people, two hours after eating, suffer indigestion as they call it. It is usually excess acid. Correct it with an alkali. The best way, the quick, harmless and efficient way is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. It has been recommended for 50 years the standard with physicians. One spoonful in water neutralizes many times its volume in stomach acids, and at once. The symptoms disappear in five minutes.

You will never use crude methods when you know this better method. And you will never suffer from excess acid when you prove out this easy relief. Please do that—for your own sake—now.

Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acids; 25c and 50c a bottle—any drug store.

"Milk of Magnesia" has been the U.S. Registered Trade Mark of T. W. Charles H. Phillips Chemical Company and its predecessor Charles H. Phillips since 1875.

place. This she had removed completely. On either side of the narrow console table, with its overhanging mirror, she put a pair of wrought-iron candlesticks, about 5 feet high, with three sockets. Candlelight in the entrance hall proved a novel and charming difference from the ordinary foyer lighting arrangement. However, candle-light must be used with discretion. It is pleasant at tea-time, but it does give a subdued, restful effect. Very agreeable when that's what you want. Candles are an accessory to the dinner-table, and usually the room is discreetly illuminated elsewhere with decorative electric fixtures. There may be soft wall-brackets, or a set of electric lamps, of small size, on a sideboard or serving tables.

If you buy parchment shades be careful to test a light in them, preferably near a well colored the same as the room for which the shade is intended. Parchment lampshades are frequently colored beautifully on the outside, but tinted so deeply on the inner side that all light is absorbed. You then display a beautiful lampshade, but it doesn't give out enough light for use. Some of the modernistic lamps have frosted parchment shades atop the silver base. They give out a beautiful clear light. But be sure they blend with the rest of the room.

Nature Renews Life in the Spring

No Need For You to Drag Around Half Sick Now

WORLD'S TONIC WILL HELP YOU TO ENJOY LIFE

Thousands of people are miserable every spring. They think they have "Spring Fever," and many of them have come to believe they must go through just so much misery every spring.

Now what ails people like this is that their blood is full of poison, which in turn has come from the colds, confinements and rich-foods of winter. Often the colds leave an inflammation of the membranes of the nose and throat that develop into catarrh. Such people feel tired all the time. They want to hang around the fire and bask in the sun. Their food doesn't taste good or digest right. It usually brings on constipation, gastritis, kidney and bladder and blood trouble, and they haven't any energy.

Cheer up, old friend! What you need is a good medicine that will do three things: First, clear out your system, helping nature to get rid of all waste. Second, purify your blood and help nature enrich it. Third, correct the catarrhal condition before it gets serious.

Thousands of people depend on World's Tonic every spring. With it they literally make themselves over, recover energy, help to get rich blood that fills them with ambition, and store up an abundance of the vim and zest that make life worth living.

Don't drag around any more. Get a bottle of World's Tonic at The J. H. Lease drug store or of any reliable druggist. You will never regret the dollar it costs you. (A-140) Adv

GEORGE'S RE

Hello Broadway

George A. McManus grins cheerfully as he steps out of jail on $50,000 bail after being held four months in connection with the murder of Arnold Rothstein. District Attorney Banton refused to produce additional evidence against McManus on the grounds that it would help the defense counsel but promises sensational developments when the trial is started.

Beer As Tonic Gets Leniency In Court

Fort Wayne, April 8. — Although the Indiana bone dry law makes no provision for medicinal liquor, Special Judge Chester L. Teeter of Allen county circuit court recognized the use of beer as a tonic in the case of George Kling, charged with possession of liquor.

After Kling has been found in possession of 60 quarts of home brew, he pleaded for a suspended sentence on the ground that it was prescribed by his physician as a remedy for tuberculosis with which he and his daughter were afflicted.

Judge Teeter suspended a state penal farm sentence and let the defendant off with $100 and costs.

"The law was being violated and the court is not in any way giving the defendant permission to continue the making of beer," said Judge Teeter. "The facts in the case, however, justify leniency in the assessment of the penalty."

Pennsylvania Will Force Inspection Of Motor Vehicles

Harrisburg, Pa., April 8. — Compulsory inspection of all motor vehicles is provided for in a bill now pending before the general assembly of Pennsylvania.

The bill would authorize the governor to issue a proclamation requiring all automobile owners to have their vehicles inspected for mechanical defects whenever, in his opinion, the highways became dangerous because of the number of mechanically unsafe cars being operated.

A Good Fairy Comes to Town

Up my street and your street, the country over, there is a glittering pageantry of Thrift. The Good Fairy of Civic Pride has come to town. She waves her magic wand, and homes that were dull and lifeless and neglected, suddenly blossom forth as good as new again—streets which were "run down" take on fresh impetus. It is the transformation which always takes place during the Clean Up and Paint Up Campaign.

Ugly Ogres of Neglect find no welcome in a community of this character—Witches of the old regime vanish before the wand. And, really, when you stop to think of it, there is a deal of magic in this great, national movement in behalf of the Home Beautiful, the Town Beautiful, the Country Beautiful.
